YOUR BIBLE FOR AFL FANTASY DRAFT

COMPILED BY THE TRADERS

WELCOME FANTASY DRAFTERS

The popularity of AFL Fantasy Draft grows every year and this year is better than ever with plenty of exciting features available.

FANTASY DRAFT CUSTOMISATION

Like last year, all Fantasy Draft leagues will have the ability to customise more components of their entire league. From team sizes to points system to including additional stats categories and even having the option of becoming a Keeper League, we have put the power back in your hands to make your league everything you want it to be.

FREE FEATURES

- Squad sizes - choose how many players you want on field and how many you want on the bench.
- Custom Scoring Basic Stats - the ability to decide how many points you want to attribute to any of the basic stats we have on offer (eg. if you want a kick to be worth five points in your league, you can change it).
- Additional lockout option - first Saturday game will now be added as a lockout setting along with the current options of full lockout and rolling lockout.
- Replace coach - commissioners will now be able to replace members in their league that have a drafted team with a replacement coach.
- Delete league - commissioners can now delete leagues up until the league's live draft commences.
- Keeper Leagues - leagues are granted the ability to keep a certain number of players from year to year. After the commissioner regenerates the Keeper League, teams will select which players they intend to keep from their previous year's roster. The commissioner will select the number of players that teams can keep, which can vary year to year. The number of Keepers can range from 1 to the entire size of the team list. Commissioners will need to set their league as a Keeper League and users will be able to select Keepers from the 2024 season.

PRO SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Pro subscription comes in two levels: Lite and Deluxe. The Pro subscription grants you access to additional customisation features. You can buy it via the League Settings page, by clicking "Find out more about Pro" and following the prompts. Pro Deluxe is $49.99 and Pro Lite is $29.99. This is a cost for the entire league, not the individual so if you have a 10-person league it's $5 each to have access to all the features.

PRO LITE

- Customisable Emergency Settings - Decide how long a player needs to spend on the ground before they stop being eligible for an emergency to cover them. Normally, an emergency will only cover a player who does not play. With this setting, a player who plays less than 25% (first quarter) of a match could be covered. The choice is yours! Change this via the Lineup tab.
- Customisable Draft Order - You can go through each round of your draft and determine who gets each individual pick. This means coaches in your league can perform pick trading, but you'll have to update this! Do this by going to Settings > Edit Draft Picks.
- Disable Position Changes - Periodically, we update Dual Position Players. This setting lets you stop those updates from taking effect in your league. Adjust this via the Lineup tab.
- Edit Teams - As commissioner, you will be able to edit the teams in your league after the draft. Do this by going to Settings > Edit Teams.
- Edit Match Results - Allows you to edit the results of fixtures in your league. Do this by going to Settings > Edit Scores.
- Custom Finals Systems - Allows you to change when your finals start, and how long they run for. Managed via the Season tab.

PRO DELUXE

Deluxe gives you access to all features in the Lite subscription, plus:

- Advanced Custom Scoring - Gives you the ability to customise your scoring system with advanced stats.
- Projected Season Averages - Projected season averages for every player.

STATS CATEGORIES

If you're getting tired of the basic stats on offer, you're in luck! Not only can you pick and choose any of the basic stats that you want to include, but we also have a range of new categories that you can include. You can create your own scoring system by deciding how many points a player will earn for getting a kick, handball or even a clearance or spoil.

BASIC - Kicks, Handballs, Marks, Tackles, Free Kicks For, Free Kicks Against, Goals, Behinds, Hitouts.

ADVANCED - Goal Assists, Disposals, Effective Disposals, Ineffective Disposals, Rebound 50s, Inside 50s, Clearances, Spoils, Contested Possessions, Uncontested Possessions, Contested Marks, Free Kick Differential, Clangers.

- Every stat category has the option to be valued between the range of -10 to 20.

SUGGESTED LEAGUE SETTINGS

BASIC

Privacy - 'Private' in order to keep your league code available for your league members only.

Draft type - 'Live' so that you can draft from your device (computer/phone).

SEASON

League size - 10 or 12 coaches are the most popular.

League start round - Round 1! Get it going as soon as footy starts!

Play each other - Do the maths on your league size, but 'Flexible' is common to play through whole season.

Play bye rounds - Most draft leagues turn bye rounds off as it is a challenge to field teams.

Ladder tiebreaker - 'Points for' as you can't play defence in Fantasy!

Lockout - 'Rolling lockout' isn't as taxing in Draft as it is in Classic but allows you to fix any late changes. Also consider the 'Saturday lockout'.

Play a final series - A big 'Yes'!

Finals format - Typically approximately half of your teams make finals. Eg. 'Top 6' for a 12 coach league.

Coaches box - 'On' and let the banter fly!

DRAFT

Draft turn time - '60 seconds' is our favourite, but if you've got people in different time zones, a slow draft (up to 24 hours allowed per pick) can let you get through your draft at your own pace.

Draft date and time - Whenever it suits your league, but we like the weekend prior to round one.

Draft turn type - 'Snake' is the fairest way. The player who has the 1st pick in the odd rounds (1,3,5 etc...) of the draft will have the last pick in the even rounds (2,4,6 etc...).

LINEUP

Enable captains - 'Yes' so you get double points for one of your players.

Position size - Choose between 1-9 players per position. 5 DEF, 7 MID, 1 RUC, 5 FWD is common for leagues with up to 10 coaches, 3-4-1-3 is great for 10 or more coaches and inexperienced players. 4 INT is popular.

Emergencies - 'Yes' in order to have a bench player cover for a non-scoring player on your field.

Number of emergencies - '4' so you have one per position.

Emergency TOG threshold - An early injury can really hurt your score. Setting this at '25%' means anyone injured in the first quarter will be replaced by your emergency for that position.

TRADES & RFA

Restricted free agents - 'Yes' so that it isn't first in best dressed to pick the best available in the player pool.

Restricted free agent time period - '1 day' is usually enough time to let coaches place their bids on available players.

Restricted free agent order policy - 'Reverse ladder' allows the coaches at the bottom to have first dibs on players that will help them have more success. Equalisation; a little bit like the AFL Draft system.

Restricted free agent privacy - 'Private'. Keep your cards close to your chest.

Trade approval options - 'Commissioner approved' if you have a fair commissioner that will veto ridiculously lopsided trades (or collusion) or 'League approved' if you want everyone to have a say on whether a trade should be allowed. 'Free for all' is a can of worms that will almost certainly see a pair of coaches do something sinister in most leagues...

SCORING

Edit points value - You can stick with the traditional AFL Fantasy scoring system or award between -10 and 20 points for each individual stat category including 13 advanced stats (see page 10). For example, some leagues may like to make key defenders more relevant and add 2 points for a spoil or give an extra point for a contested mark. Want to reward the midfielders who use the ball well? Add extra points for effective disposals or contested possessions, while taking off points for ineffective disposals and clangers.

Come up with your own scoring system unique to your league.

KEEPER

Enable keeper league - If you'd like to start keeper league, which means you can have some or all of your players drafted this year for 2024 and beyond, then consider this fun format.

CUSTOMISATION OPTIONS

- Points scoring
- Additional stats categories to choose from
- The amount of players you have on the field
- The amount of players you can select as emergencies
- Keeper Leagues
- Additional round lockout settings
- The ability to add/drop players at any time
- The ability to replace a coach
- Setting TOG% thresholds for emergencies
- Edit draft order
- Disable player position changes
- Edit match results

- Edit teams after lockout

KEEPER LEAGUE 101

There's no better time to try out this exciting format of Fantasy Draft.

BASIC

A Keeper League is a draft-style league where instead of drafting a new team every year, you keep players from year-to-year. At the end of each season you select which player you want to keep, who you want to delist and then top up your squad for the following season via a draft.

GETTING STARTED

Appoint a commissioner and work out the league settings that will suit your crew. Often keeper leagues have larger squad sizes (sometimes between 30-40) which means it is made up of a mix of the guns we see drafted each season and also the up-and-coming youngsters.

In a team where 30 players are listed, your on-field team of 18 (5 defenders, 7 midfielders, 1 ruck, 5 forwards) would have 12 players on your interchange in reserve. This will allow you to cover injuries and suspensions each week without having to drop players to your player pool that you want to invest in long-term. It also means you can jump on a draftee that has shown some promise and they can be 'your boy' from the get go.

Set some rules in place before activating the league. These can be via the settings in the game or some rules that will help set your league up into the future such as how many players you will keep for the next season. A rule of thumb is that teams should keep half of their squad. Some leagues go further and suggest of your keepers, a certain amount have played fewer than 50 games or are under 22 years old, for example.

RANKINGS AND DRAFT DAY

When participating in your initial draft, there are a number of factors to consider. Make sure you are aware of your league settings and rules with an eye to the future. That's not to say you shouldn't go all out to win year one of your league, but taking a 33-year-old in the first few rounds will leave a big hole in your midfield in the next couple of years.

When compiling your initial rankings, more weight can be placed on younger players. Rory Laird might be a higher scoring midfielder this season, but Andrew Brayshaw, who is six years younger, may be a better option if you're looking beyond 2023.

Consider positions when drafting and looking ahead to what your squad will look like into the future. If you're hot on a player who is set for a run through the midfield and is available as a FWD, keep in mind that they may in fact only be available as a MID next season. Many coaches have been stung when the positions are updated for the new season to find they have a plethora of midfielders. There's no problem in drafting them, but you could possibly trade them away while they have their positional value.

MANAGING YOUR TEAM

As the season progresses, make sure you have a balanced side and be thinking about which players will be among your keepers for the following year. Looking across your opponents' squads is important to see what trades could be formulated but also what the draft may look like next season.

Get the key players in your squad this year and then in future seasons, your list management strategy will be in play as you look to select the best young talent coming through. Set yourself up for a dynasty!

ALREADY IN A KEEPER LEAGUE?

League commissioners must go into Create league from the Draft page on the website and regenerate the keeper league from last season.

Check through the Settings to make sure they suit what your league is after. In most cases, you should be playing by the same rules as the previous year. The most important step here is to click on the Keeper League tab and set Enable keeper league to yes and nominate the number of keepers. This should be decided amongst the league. A popular number is half the squad size.

Once everyone has registered for the new season (coaches need to log into their Fantasy account), commissioners should look under Settings and Manage Teams and click the Finalise participants button. Leagues must be finalised prior to the draft or the draft won't run. This page is also where you can assign a new coach to a team, if someone decides to leave the league. Click Set new coach for keeper team then type in the first name and email address the new coach used to register for AFL Fantasy.

SELECTING KEEPERS

League members can nominate their keepers via the website or the free smartphone app. The deadline for keeper selection is 72 hours prior to the live draft.

If a coach has selected zero (0) keepers, they will automatically receive the maximum number of keepers allowed in the league. These will be highest averaging players from the previous season.

You don't have to select the maximum number of keepers. If you want, you can select just one, then they would be the only player you'd keep.

As mentioned, the deadline to pick keeper players is 72 hours before your draft starts. After this point you won't be able to edit your keeper selections. This is also when all kept players will be removed from pre-draft lists.

LIVE DRAFTS

Commissioners must finalise the teams in your league before your live draft.

Keeper players are effectively selected during the live draft. By default, they will be allocated to your final draft picks. For example, if you've kept five players, your last five picks will have your keepers assigned to them. Keepers will be auto-picked at the start of your turn if that pick has a keeper assigned to it. You won't be allowed to select someone else, and you won't have to manually pick them.

During live drafts, the game will indicate if an upcoming pick is a keeper pick; at the scroll bar at the top of the screen and in the draft order widget on the right-hand side of the screen. Ordinarily, these just show who has which pick. Now, if a keeper has been allocated to the pick, you'll see the name of the player allocated to that pick.

League commissioners with Pro subscriptions (Lite or Deluxe) can edit specific draft picks. That includes assigning keeper players to any draft picks, not necessarily at the back of the draft. Assigning keepers to specific picks can only be done after the keeper deadline has passed. This feature is what can be used for pick trading, but the actual negotiations for pick trades will have to take place offline.

ADELAIDE

CALVIN

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
MATT CROUCH MID 87.9 (11) Use one of your bench spots on a guy who can score with ease when given the chance. He has averaged 106 before and even averaged 116 last year in the SANFL. It's a gamble worth taking ... late.	BEN KEAYS MID 97.3 (22) More time up forward is on the cards for Keays who spent time there in 2022 and struggled. As a midfielder, his scoring is elite, but then again... imagine if he picks up FWD status along the way.	SAM BERRY MID 84.3 (18) Berry had a breakout season, improving his average by a massive 41 points. He just turned 21 and was Adelaide's second most used midfielder after his bye behind Laird. Lock this tackling machine away!

BRISBANE LIONS

ROY

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
KEIDEAN COLEMAN DEF 77.7 (15) The smooth-moving defender is on the verge of a breakout. We got multiple glimpses of what we can expect this season after Coleman tallied six scores of 90 or more from round 10, including two tons.	CAM RAYNER FWD 64.4 (22) Although often impactful, the former No.1 pick doesn't find enough of the ball on a consistent basis. Last year, he recorded 20+ possessions on just four occasions and had no hundreds.	WILL ASHCROFT MID YET TO DEBUT Established Keeper Leagues will be jostling for the draft rights to the Lions' father-son. He averaged 125 in the NAB League before making the most of his chances at VFL level, recording scores of 111, 116 and 122.

CARLTON

ROY

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
ADAM CERRA MID 88.1 (18) Cerra's average is not a fair reflection of his ability after an injury interrupted debut season with the Blues. The injury to Sam Walsh will give him a significant CBA boost and he averaged 108 in his last four games.	TOM DE KONING RUC 62.3 (19) Although the temptation is there to select the talented breakout contender, his ceiling and consistent scoring will be restricted, given Marc Pittonet is likely to maintain the No.1 mantle in the big man department.	SAM WALSH MID 103.3 (20) If you are starting a Keeper League, don't snooze on the star 22-year-old just because he will have a delayed start to the season. He will more than make up for it over the next 10 years. Walsh is worthy of an early first-round selection.

COLLINGWOOD

WARNIE

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
TAYLOR ADAMS MID 81.5 (17) A potential steam on draft day after posting his lowest return since 2014. A low-risk move if you can get him around other players who averaged 80-85 last year despite only playing two full seasons in his career.	JORDAN DE GOEY MID 79.1 (16) When things are going right, JDG is one of the competition's best Fantasy scorers. Each year he feels like he has upside. But for whatever reasons, games played are an issue and this year he's MID-only. Avoid.	JOSH CARMICHAEL MID/FWD 54 (6) Nick Daicos is an obvious first-round selection in a start-up Keeper League, but consider stashing this mid-season draftee late after scoring 111 in his second game and averaging an impressive 101 in the VFL.

ESSENDON

WARNIE

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
ANDREW McGRATH DEF/MID 81.2 (18) Currently the 29th defender based on 2022 averages, a modest five-point jump puts him inside the top 20. A role off half-back should see the ball in his hands and he should be bumped up your rankings.	DYSON HEPPELL DEF/MID 83.5 (22) It's low-hanging fruit calling the veteran a bust, but you should consider backing in younger players where his ADP is likely to land. Teammates McGrath, Redman and Ridley may end up outscoring HepD.	WILL SETTERFIELD MID 68.6 (12) With a sub-70 average next to his name, Setterfield may go undrafted. He averaged 88 as a midfielder in his last five games for the Blues after a 120 VFL average in the second half of the season.

FREMANTLE

WARNIE

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
JAEGER O'MEARA MID 82.1 (21) JOM's average fell from 96 to 82 off the back of being pushed out of Hawthorn's midfield. In 2021, he attended 73 per cent of CBAs, last year it was 61 per cent. Likely to return to his career average of 90.	WILL BRODIE MID 95.4 (22) Had the second most CBAs of Fremantle midfielders to exceed all expectations at his new club. Limited time on ground is an issue, as is the inclusion of O'Meara. Likely regression to a sub-90 average.	NEIL ERASMUS MID 57.5 (4) The former pick 10 in the NAB AFL Draft has been eased into the system, but dominated in the WAFL, averaging 96 for Peel including three scores over 130. It might be a long-term play for the prolific scorer.

GEELONG CATS

ROY

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
PATRICK DANGERFIELD MID 76.1 (15) It's not often one of the most celebrated players in the game could become a forgotten man on draft day, but when sorted by average, Danger is almost undraftable. He averaged 101 throughout the Finals.	MITCH DUNCAN DEF 92.6 (19) Selecting the star Cat at the right number will be an outstanding move, but his defender status will tempt many to go early. The 31-year-old hasn't played 20 H&A games in any of his past three seasons.	JHYE CLARK MID YET TO DEBUT Established Keeper Leagues looking to stash a rookie for the future could do worse than a player touted as the next Joel Selwood. He is tough, has footy smarts and averaged an impressive 101 in the NAB League.

GOLD COAST SUNS

WARNIE

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
BEN LONG DEF/FWD 57.9 (18) With DPP flexibility and a draft range that would see him as a bench option, Long has the opportunity to make a half-back spot his own as Wil Powell will miss the start of the season. Averaged 89 in his last four.	BRAYDEN FIORINI MID 71.8 (13) There is no doubt he can score. We all remember 166 in his second game. We also love what he does in the VFL (140 average last year), but he's played just 29 games of a possible 61 in the past three years.	BAILEY HUMPHREY MID/FWD YET TO DEBUT Gippsland's captain in the NAB League, Humphrey averaged 100 points, showing ability to play midfield and forward. His best game tallied 165 points thanks to 31 disposals, 12 marks, four goals and five tackles.

GWS GIANTS

ROY

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
LACHIE WHITFIELD MID 90.8 (18) The running machine has no DPP to his name and recorded his lowest average in the past six years. The fact Adam Kingsley looks set to implement an attacking style of play bodes well for Whitfield.	BRAYDON PREUSS RUC 85.6 (10) If there is a ruck run, it would be easy to see big Juicy Preussy's average and lock him in. The catch is, he finds a way to miss games and has hit the park on just 28 occasions over the past four years.	DARCY JONES MID YET TO DEBUT If you are looking to stash a rookie, Jones is one to consider. He displayed elite agility and ball-winning ability in the WAFL Colts, where he averaged 26 possessions, four marks and five tackles for an average of 103.

HAWTHORN

ROY

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
CHAD WINGARD FWD 56 (10) Although the 11-year veteran is past his best and playing on a rebuilding team, he is far better than his average suggests. In fact, his average is the second worst of his career and a 32-point drop on what he achieved in 2021.	KARL AMON MID 96.6 (22) There are concerns whether the Hawks will have enough of the ball to get the most out of Amon's high marking game. Last year, he took eight or more marks on seven occasions and scored a season-high 148 against... the Hawks.	WILL DAY DEF 60.7 (17) The fourth-year Hawk has all the skills to become an elite defender for years to come. He has demonstrated the ability to run through the middle of the ground and is a prospect capable of holding down DEF/MID status.

MELBOURNE

CALVIN

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
CHRISTIAN SALEM DEF 73.8 (11) Back in 2021, Salem was a top-10 defender, averaging 93. After an injury in round one on three points, Salem sat out half of the season and returned in round 12. In his next 10 games, he scored over 90 five times.	MAX GAWN RUC 103.2 (20) The Gawn + Grundy combination means something has to give. Expect Gawn to play more forward than ever before which means his five-year streak of averaging 100+ might come to an end.	CLAYTON OLIVER MID 112.5 (21) If you are starting up a Keeper League, then consider Oliver with your first player picked. He has now averaged over 110 in the last five years and did it by only missing one game. A reminder... he's 25 years old.

NORTH MELBOURNE

WARNIE

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
BEN CUNNINGTON MID/FWD 52.5 (2) Drafting forwards will be a challenge this year. Don't miss out on Cunners, who will be available late. He'll get plenty of midfield time to be a worthy starter in your squad despite being a bench selection.	JOSH GOATER DEF/MID 83 (1) Look, he's just played one game and he was great, racking up 21 disposals and 83 Fantasy points. But when sorting by average, he ranks as the 25th best defender. He won't return that value.	TRISTAN XERRI RUC 66.3 (12) Looking to stash a ruck for the future? Xerri could be the man as Todd Goldstein's days are numbered. Xerri was given plenty of opportunity last season, including being the No. 1 ruck over Goldy in most games.

PORT ADELAIDE

CALVIN

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
JASON HORNE-FRANCIS MID/FWD 62.4 (17) The drop off in the forwards this year is nasty with only 17 averaging over 80. JHF currently ranks at No.72 based on last year's average and if you believe he can improve at his new club ... bump him up.	TRAVIS BOAK MID 95 (21) Since his average peaked in 2019 on 106, it has been steadily decreasing each year. We love Boaky, but he is turning 35 this year and at Port, there is an increasing number of mouths to feed.	CONNOR ROZEE MID/FWD 88.1 (22) Rozee just turned 23 and is a star in the making. He showed what he was capable of by averaging 110 in his last seven games of the year. Ranked as the sixth best FWD on average and only getting better.

RICHMOND

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
JACOB HOPPER MID 66.1 (7) Hopper averaged 88+ at the Giants as a full-time midfielder for three years straight before injuries hampered his 2022 season. That average of 66 next to his name needs to be adjusted right now!	SHAI BOLTON MID/FWD 74.3 (22) Bolton was the third most used midfielder last year, but that will change in 2023. With Hopper and Taranto coming in, and a fit Dusty Martin, Bolton might find himself spending more time forward.	TIM TARANTO MID/FWD 95.5 (16) New club, more midfield opportunities for this star who just turned 25. He only attended 44 per cent of the Giants' CBAs last year. It's a number that will only increase, alongside his average.

ST KILDA

ROY

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
BRAD CROUCH MID 106.4 (21) Many coaches refuse to use an early pick on a player who isn't available round one and given the Saint ball-magnet falls into that category, he is one to keep an eye on. He averaged 127 in his last four.	HUNTER CLARK DEF 54.4 (8) I hope I am wrong but durability is an important category in all draft formats, and it's just not something the promising Saint has displayed in his first five years, never managing to play more than 16 H&A games.	ROWAN MARSHALL RUC 91.3 (21) If you are starting a Keeper League, don't be afraid to go early on the 27-year-old to shoulder your ruck load for years to come. The apprenticeship is over and he averaged 117 between rounds 15 and 22 as sole ruck.

SYDNEY SWANS

CALVIN

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
ERROL GULDEN MID/FWD 83 (22) A third-year breakout is on the cards for Gulden, who finished the season averaging 98 in his last six games. An average of 90+ could make him a top-six forward and a steal on your draft day.	TOM HICKEY RUC 68 (13) Sydney rucks in general are not what you want to be left with on draft day. Ladhams and Hickey have never played a full season and in a position where you want security, these two are not your answer.	CHAD WARNER MID 88.7 (21) At the young age of 21, Warner has some amazing years ahead of him. Only the 30-year-old Luke Parker spent more time in the middle than Warner, who improved his average by 20 points last season.

WEST COAST EAGLES

CALVIN

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
ELLIOT YEO DEF 57.4 (5) Last year, Yeo was injured three times and subbed out twice. His average ranks him as the 99th best DEF and this needs to be fixed, especially after his successful pre-season and his ability to average 90+.	SHANNON HURN DEF 93.5 (19) In defence, we don't need to panic and jump on Hurn too early. He is currently ranked at No.8 based on average and even though he has been a gun over his 17 seasons, durability is becoming a concern.	JAI CULLEY MID 67.5 (4) Opportunity is coming for the 20-year-old, who is set to feature in the Eagles' midfield rotations. He is a tackling beast and from his four games last year he scored 76, 87, 36 (injured), and 71. Great late pick.

WESTERN BULLDOGS

WARNIE

SLEEPER	BUST	KEEPER
JACK MACRAE MID 103.4 (22) Ranked 11th midfielder based on 2022 average, he has the second best career average of all available midfielders. Not a deep sleeper, but one that should be going in the first round, certainly not second.	ADAM TRELOAR MID 96.4 (21) Ads played off half-back at stages last year and if this continues, he would gain DEF status. Don't draft him thinking he'll gain it... his coach is Bevo! A flag is that he's already had injury woes this pre-season.	RHYLEE WEST FWD 58.8 (13) If you want a late-round punt, the 22-year-old could be the stash you need for some depth as a FWD with hope of midfield time. Scored 112 in round 15 last year after averaging 92 in the VFL.

THE TRADERS' DRAFT

WARNE DAWGS

WARNIE

Pick 1 can be a curse, but locking in the best forward and being able to get a top-two ruck all the way at pick 20 set me up beautifully. I was able to pick a midfield full of players with upside on their 2022 performances. My only regret is leaving F3 until late. I could have left my defenders for a couple of rounds and ended up with the best FWDs in the league.

PICK 1

DEFENDER	MIDFIELDER	RUCK	FORWARD
Isaac Cumming	Christian Petracca	Tim English	Josh Dunkley
Caleb Daniel	Marcus Bontempelli		Zak Butters
Andrew McGrath	Luke Davies-Uniacke		Toby McLean
	Jacob Hopper
BENCH
Jack Viney	Scott Lycett	Izak Rankine	Jordan Clark

THE BDR

RICKY

Some would say Gawn at two is a mistake, I would say they're wrong. I'm backing the Dees' plans for the big man and believe he'll be taking more marks this year and will be the premier ruckman. With all teams focusing on ball movement, I made getting key playmakers a priority. Lloyd, Dale, Saad, Whitfield and Smith all fit the bill. Very excited to see what Clarko does with Shiels, he could be an absolute steal as a forward.

PICK 2

DEFENDER	MIDFIELDER	RUCK	FORWARD
Jake Lloyd	Lachie Neale	Max Gawn	Isaac Heeney
Bailey Dale	Lachie Whitfield		Isaac Smith
Adam Saad	Taylor Adams		Charlie Curnow
	Adam Treloar
BENCH
Liam Shiels	Harry Perryman	Darcy Byrne-Jones	Sam Draper

DUFF GARDENS

MJ

Is this the team to bring me my three-peat? If soft tissue injuries are a thing of the past, then yes. I'm not usually one to pull the trigger on double mids first off but I just couldn't say no to a couple of studs in Laird and Merrett. A couple of veterans with big scores still in them (Hall, Zorko, Dusty) combined with some up-and-comers (JHF, Day, Rowbottom, Blakey, Flanders) will put me in good stead. Drafting the 2023 Brownlow medallist in the last round will help too!

PICK 3

DEFENDER	MIDFIELDER	RUCK	FORWARD
Elliot Yeo	Rory Laird	Toby Nankervis	Dayne Zorko
Aaron Hall	Zach Merrett		Jason Horne-Francis
Will Day	Ollie Wines		Dustin Martin
	James Rowbottom
BENCH
Nick Blakey	Jordan De Goey	Zac Bailey	Sam Flanders

FIZZ ED

STEVIE FIZZ

Went in thinking mid, was happy when Brayshaw was there and blown away when Macrae dropped to the third round. Two genuine captain options. A run on non-mids in the second round had me take Dylan Moore who I like to get midfield time. Went for solid defenders rather than force an F2 who I didn't like, and took the punt on a couple of forgotten players who fell for those spots later. M3 is sketchy but depth good.

PICK 4

DEFENDER	MIDFIELDER	RUCK	FORWARD
Tom Stewart	Andrew Brayshaw	Sean Darcy	Dylan Moore
Mitch Duncan	Jack Macrae		Ben Cunnington
Nick Vlastuin	Ben Keays		Jack Ziebell
	Will Brodie
BENCH
Nat Fyfe	Jack Crisp	Nic Newman	Dylan Shiel

DESTROY

ROY

I've drafted high ceilings which means on any given week I will blow the opposition off the park. My three defenders, led by my first pick Doch, all have the potential to average triple figures, similar to my whole midfield behind Kelly's leadership and Marshall will be the highest averaging ruck this year, going over 110. My forwards are weak but there is hope Himmelberg eventually goes back and Stephenson starts back where he averaged 86 in his last five games.

PICK 5

DEFENDER	MIDFIELDER	RUCK	FORWARD
Sam Docherty	Josh Kelly	Rowan Marshall	Harry Himmelberg
Nick Daicos	Brad Crouch		Jaidyn Stephenson
Alex Witherden	Hugh McCluggage		Kyle Langford
	Adam Cerra
BENCH
Archie Perkins	Keidean Coleman	Wayne Milera	Andrew Gaff

THE TRADERS' DRAFT

CALVINATOR

CALVIN

At pick No.55 an unplanned opportunity presented itself. Staring me right in the face was Jayden Short. With Taranto and Hopper his new teammates, Short is highly likely to become a defender by round six. This will push Duggan to my bench and Kennedy or Boak to the vacant midfield spot, to join three midfield guns all capable of averaging 115+. Overall, it's a solid team but like many on Draft Day... I did let my forwards slip.

PICK 6

DEFENDER	MIDFIELDER	RUCK	FORWARD
Dan Houston	Jack Steele	Mark Blicavs	Connor Rozee
Shannon Hurn	Tom Mitchell		Patrick Lipinski
Liam Duggan	Bailey Smith		Sam Powell-Pepper
	Jayden Short
BENCH
Matthew Kennedy	Travis Boak	Tom Hickey	Ben Ainsworth

CAN'T GO SERONG

DEJAN

Can't go Serong, or can you? Holding off on the forward line and rucks after the likely highest scorers were off the board resulted in a stacked defence and midfield, including the Fremantle gun. Errol Gulden and Brad Hill have room for growth this year, as does the Big O, in two of the more unpredictable lines. I'm happy with the depth, particularly if Nic Nat can stay fit.

PICK 7

DEFENDER	MIDFIELDER	RUCK	FORWARD
Angus Brayshaw	Clayton Oliver	Oscar McInerney	Errol Gulden
James Sicily	Patrick Cripps		Bradley Hill
Tom Atkins	Caleb Serong		Jack Graham
	Tom Green
BENCH
Ed Richards	Tom Papley	Nic Naitanui	Tim Kelly

FANTASY FREAKO

FREAKO

With pick No.8, I was always going to target a captain and with Callum Mills I have that. In Chad Warner, Hayden Young, and Noah Anderson I have three high-end breakouts on the cards, while Jordan Dawson and Cam Guthrie will provide the steady flow of points. I used pick No.1 to pick Brodie Grundy a few years ago and he was a real slider this year, but understandably so. Content with my group.

BEARHAWK

CHRIS

I was determined to get some quality in front and back halves early and leave the midfield battle to others. With some good DPPs up for grabs in Coniglio, Gresham and Ellis, the team should have some flexibility early on. No super high averages in the squad, but a workmanlike mix across the board striving for week in, week out consistency. Expecting Amon to do special things in the brown and gold in 2023!

PICK 9

MOTTRAM'S MARVELS

MATT

This was my first attempt at Fantasy Draft so my aim was to keep it simple and pick the best player available. I went hard in the midfield where the points are on offer and made sure I landed an uber premium forward early. I was happy to come out with Taranto at F1 and Touk, Parish and Simpkin in the midfield. One ruck spot and less certainty in defence meant they could wait. Witts isn't the worst ruck and I loved getting Red Dog's ceiling as my O1.
